WHY CHOOSE CONN KAVANAUGH

Leadership

Conn Kavanaugh attorneys hold leadership positions in many community and bar organizations, publish articles and speak at continuing legal education seminars. The Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts appointed one of our founding partners to the Massachusetts Board of Bar Overseers (BBO), the official body that investigates and evaluates complaints against lawyers. Several other firm attorneys are hearing officers for the BBO.

WHY CHOOSE CONN KAVANAUGH

Why Choose Conn Kavanaugh

Boston is home to dozens of excellent law firms. Why should you turn to Conn Kavanaugh for assistance with your legal needs?

Accessibility

Conn Kavanaugh offers a level of accessibility and responsive, attentive service that larger firms cannot match. Maintaining close contact and open communication with clients really matters here. We believe in listening to clients and advising them in specific terms to solve their legal challenges. And we aim to develop an ongoing relationship of trust and confidence with clients, becoming part of their team.

Specialized Expertise

We deliver many of the benefits you might associate with a larger firm — for example, breadth and depth of expertise. Each of our attorneys focuses on a select number of practice areas. Collectively, they give our firm the highly specialized expertise necessary to address wide-ranging client needs.

Transactional Experience

Our business attorneys have decades of experience negotiating deals for acquiring and selling companies through mergers, consolidations and asset and stock transactions. We are strong advocates and skilled negotiators. In addition, we bring considerable value to our clients in getting deals done efficiently and effectively while never losing sight of the importance of identifying and managing risk.

Litigation Experience

The Conn Kavanaugh team includes seasoned former prosecutors and a strong, deep bench of attorneys with civil and criminal trial experience, which equips us to solve complex litigation cases for clients. Some of our attorneys are fellows in the American College of Trial Lawyers, the nation's premier professional trial organization.

Cost-efficiency

One reason so many of our clients choose us is that we staff our cases leanly and charge reasonable fees. In addition, we provide practical and realistic strategies to resolve legal issues quickly and effectively, within budgetary constraints.

Corporate / Transactional

Effective representation in the corporate/transactional field only begins with legal and technical expertise. It also requires good listening skills, a commitment to understanding the nature of a client's business, and an unwavering focus on achieving optimal results.

The attorneys of Conn Kavanaugh's Corporate/Transactional practice share all of these characteristics, along with a dedication to attentive, responsive service. Our business clients include private and public enterprises, family businesses, licensed professionals and entrepreneurs representative of major sectors of the economy.

Transactional experience is a particular strength of our Corporate/Transactional team. Our business attorneys have decades of experience negotiating deals for acquiring and selling companies. We are strong advocates and skilled negotiators, and approach every deal with insight and diligence designed to identify and resolve issues so that they do not become unwelcome problems after the deal has closed.

Members of our Corporate/Transactional practice have a broad range of skills. This versatility allows them to remain a principal point of contact with our business clients and to move freely across multiple disciplines to ensure continuity of representation.
